

Curator (Visual Arts), Newham NDP

London Closes Tuesday 20 August 2013 Unpaid (voluntary worker)
Part time

Artform: visual arts

Contact: Laurie laurie@newhamndp.co.uk

Newham NDP states that this opportunity is exempt from the national minimum wage.

✕ Report this post

Description

Curator (Visual Arts)

Newham is one the most exciting and fast moving boroughs in London. It has the lowest level of arts engagement and participation in the country. Newham NDP is a high-energy regeneration charity working across Newham with a special interest in the cultural industries. It works closely with local artists and is currently developing its Curating Newham programme to display, perform and give opportunities to local people to engage with the arts in community spaces across Newham.

Newham NDP is seeking to appoint a trained Curator to take forward and build its 2014 programme of exhibitions and related workshops and events in its own spaces in Canning Town and West Ham and other community spaces across the borough. The curator will also be part of a new team spearheading the development of its Curating Newham programme.

This is an exciting opportunity for someone with an appropriate postgraduate qualification and curatorial experience and a passion for engaging local communities with the arts.

Working with us at least two days a week, the appointment is for 6 months as a voluntary worker, travel and lunch expenses are available. Support for attending low cost educational/training courses or conferences may also be available.

Newham NDP offers unrivalled opportunities for those wanting to take on high levels of responsibility with support.

Application is by CV and covering letter.

Unfortunately we can only respond to shortlisted candidate